Salamander Saturday!

Saturday, March 5 • 12 noon to 4 pm • Nature Center

Join us for our annual celebration honoring the often overlooked, but heroically well-adapted amphibians native to the Santa Cruz Mountains and other moist habitats. Live amphibians will be on display for viewing, with all-age crafts, and activities.

Herpetologist Amy Patten will present her talk, Salamanders of the Santa Cruz Mountains, at 1 P.M.

Ranger-led salamander hike will start at 3 P.M. to search for these regal creatures on the Marsh Trail. Learn about salamanders and their ecosystems on this short one mile hike! For more information: (831) 427-2288.

Waddell Valley Birding

Saturday, March 12 • 8 am

Birding for all skill levels. Join Interpretive Specialist Jeremy Lin, for an approximate two mile hike to observe, listen, and enjoy morning birding in Waddell Valley. We will take our time and move slowly. Bring binoculars, a bird guide and readiness for silent observation, as we witness wildlife awakening on a crisp winter day. We will meet on the deck in front of the Nature Center.

Wildflower Festival coming in April

Saturday and Sunday, April 23 and 24 • Nature Center

Spring is coming soon to Waddell Valley, so save the date now!

Come visit the Nature and History Center

Waddell Valley Wildflower and Nature Hike

Saturdays, February 13 † March 12 † 10 am

Join docent Scott Peden and learn to identify many of Waddell Valley's plants within Rancho del Oso's seven diverse habitats. Observe the monthly change of the ecosystems. Each walk is unique as blooming flowers and pollinators are constantly in flux. This walk is a leisurely four-hour amble that is great for learning while experiencing the native habitat. Bring lunch, questions and spirited fervor! Hikes start at the yellow gate across from the Waddell Beach parking lot.

Snake Park Saturday!

March 12 † 2 pm

Why are snakes important to us? How do they see, smell, taste, hear? What and how do they eat? What does a snake feel like? Several snakes will be on display and native reptile adaptations will be discussed in the beautiful backdrop of Waddell Valley. We will meet up at the Ranger Station, a short hike in from the parking lot at Waddell Beach on Highway 1.

Nature Wander

Sundays, February 14 † March 13 † 1 pm

Find out what's growing, living and blooming right now in the Waddell Valley on this approximately one mile, one-hour-plus guided walk with docent naturalist Ann Garside.

Information will be shared about the plants and habitats of Rancho del Oso, as we saunter from coastal scrub through one of the remaining five distinct populations of Monterey Pine left in the world. Show up with curiosity and energy. Hikes start at the Nature Center.

President's Report

I became president of the Waddell Creek Association (WCA) in 2003, taking over from founding president Kirk Smith, who served for seventeen years. At that time, the Center was basically the home of Hulda Hoover McLean and her husband Chuck, but because Hulda was such an excellent naturalist, the home contained wonderful collections of things—butterflies, insects, bones, and old logging tools loaned by the McCrarys from Big Creek Lumber. The Center had an inconvenient bathroom, no potable water, and no handicap access. It also had very few visitors, so was threatened with closure.

Soon improvements started to happen. First, new outside bathrooms with handicap access were installed. Next came potable water. Then the WCA undertook a fundraising campaign to develop new exhibits, raising approximately $150,000. Supervising Ranger Gary Strachan also placed a request for bond funds, but we assumed that was a very long shot. Then came the pleasant surprise of a grant from the State of $235,000, and after some negotiations, it was agreed that our funds would go for remodeling the building, and the State's funds for new exhibits. Since then, with the help of outstanding Interpretive Specialists Morgan Dill and Jeremy Lin, attendance has picked up substantially, including an increasing number of school groups.

State Parks still has major budget problems, so we are being asked to pay for an increasing number of improvements; $5,000 for a new observation deck at Berry Creek Falls, and $4,600 for a welcome sign for the Skyline-to-the-Sea Trail. Since we have a limited budget, longtime friends have come to our assistance—Big Creek donated $5,000 worth of lumber for the deck, and the Sempervirens Fund donated the $4,600 for the sign. We are funding a number of other items, including $2,500 for new trail signs, $1,500 to help support the new backpacking program, and $2,000 toward converting an old bedroom to the Interpreter's office. The big one, for which we will have to apply for a grant, is an estimate of $150,000 to upgrade the Ranger Station into a visitor center.

Looking back, we've come a long way toward realizing Hulda's dream—sharing of the beauty and diversity of Rancho del Oso with the broadest possible audience. Your memberships and contributions play a vital part in pursuing that mission.
